

Good food, warm hospitality and, of course, draft Guinness are the secrets of success for Irish bars in Paris, like Carr's above